Hm, blank events component

Hi there,

Wish I was writing to say how great it is - it certainly looks good though!

Having a small problem with com_mls_events, the latest version. When I try to get into it, its config, etc, from the front or back end, I get just a blank page.

All the other components work fine.

I checked for similar problems like this and saw that one was caused by not having all the components installed.

I do have: catering, events, lang, paypal, seatmap, teams, tournaments all installed. Using IIS6.

Anything I'm missing?

Thanks in anticipation of your help!

Cheers,

Cam

I have done very little testing (reads: none) on IIS. Try pumping up your error reporting level to E_ALL in php.ini and make sure that PHP is configured to display errors.

Thanks for the reply!

I did as you suggested, and got the following:

```
Warning: require_once(includes/HTML_toolbar.php) : failed to open stream: No such file or directory in \components\com_mls_events\mls_events.html.php on line 3
```

```
Fatal error: require_once() : Failed opening required 'includes/HTML_toolbar.php' (include_path='.;C:\php5\pear') in \components\com_mls_events\mls_events.html.php on line 3
```

Interestingly enough, the path it refers to for the fatal error, c:\php5\pear, doesn't exist, so I'll try and chase down where it's getting that from in my PHP config.

I'll also check those lines of code as well, but thought I'd post this here for your thoughts.

Thanks again,

Cam

Okay, after playing around a bit, I deleted the following lines which make it die on direct access:

And it started working. Problem with the Includes path, I don't think my PHP knows where its meant to be looking.

I'll fiddle around in time now it's working, but for security I'll try to find a way to get that bit in.

If I do find a way, I'll be sure to post it.

Thanks for your help!

Hi, I am also experiencing the same problem. I want to use your workaround tip but my biggest problem is that I can't find the php.ini file? where is it located? and if someone wonder, yes I have installed the lang module ;)

So, are you running on IIS too?

You dont need to have access to php.ini. In Joomla, you can change the Error reporting level in the "Global configuration", "Server" tab, set "Error Reporting" to "Maximum".

See this line? $cid = mosGetParam( $_POST, 'cid', array(0) );

Add this one below:

```
$act = mosGetParam( $_REQUEST, 'act', null );
```

Let me know what webserver (Apache, IIS?), what PHP Version and which Joomla version you're running.

No worries ;-)

Anything 1.0.x should do.

Anybody fancy testing com_mls_events on Joomla 1.5 for me? I kinda got it working on my testmachine and can provide willing testers with a Zip. Didnt test much, just got it loading and clicked through a few pages. So a tester should be willing to go through all the options and try as many things as possible to check that it works. If this goes smoothly, I will continue on making the rest of the components run on Joomla 1.5 (legacy mode - obviously).
